The Red Lion

Located in the heart of Gilmorton, a historic village dating back to the Domesday records, The Red Lion is a traditional pub offering the best in food and drink. The owners are passionate about sourcing the best local ingredients from trusted suppliers; meat is always provided by two local butchers and vegetables come from a produce-swap scheme. The specials menu reflects this by offering seasonal dishes based on what local ingredients have been brought in that week. Aside from the à la carte menu, there are menus for lunch and snacks, all packed with delicious dishes. Depending on the season, you can warm yourself in the modern interior or sun yourself in the large garden, accompanied by one of at least four cask ales that are always available. The Red Lion can cater for large parties too, so whatever your reason for visiting, this charming pub will offer everything you want.
